

Prepare for a career you'll love!

New River Community and Technical College offers a wide range of options for those interested in employable educational opportunities.

Choose from noncredit courses, workforce development programs, and customized training. Whether you're interested in enhancing your skills with Continuing Education Units, pursuing a new career, exploring your creativity, or helping your employees enhance their potential, you'll find a learning opportunity available through New River CTC's Workforce Education Division.

Continuing Education

Gain or enhance job related skills through Continuing Education courses. Take a single course or complete a series to receive industry credentials (e.g. licensure, certification, renewal, or registry listing).

Examples of Continuing Education include:

- Mining Electrical Re-Training
- Real Estate Appraisal
- Healthcare CEUs*

*Continuing Education

Units (CEUs) are nationally recognized measurements of non-credit education. One CEU represents contact hours of participation in a course. CEUs may be used to meet license renewal requirements.

Community Education

Get started with a new hobby, pursue a specific interest, or simply brush up on existing skills with Community Education.

Examples of Community Education include:

- Retirement Planning
- Digital Photography
- Quilting
- Residential Wiring
- Sign Language
