New River Offers Online Course in How to Start Your Own eBay Drop Off Store

New River Community and Technical College has added “Start Your Own eBay Drop Off Store” to its Ed2go catalog of high-quality, noncredit online courses. This instructor-facilitated course is informative, fun, convenient, and highly interactive. Students can learn how to turn other people’s unwanted items into a lucrative source of income by starting an eBay drop off store.

Thousands of people have transformed their eBay knowledge into profitable second income sources or even full-time jobs. This course is designed to take your skills to the next level and avoid the common pitfalls that keep amateur sellers from reaching their full potential.

After assessing their entrepreneurial skills, students will learn the importance of developing business and marketing plans, how to select the proper location for a business, the best ways to attract customers, and smart tricks for enhancing listings.

Ed2go instructors are famous for their ability to create warm and supportive communities of learners. All courses run for six weeks. Courses are project-oriented.
Through well-crafted lessons, expert online instruction and interaction with fellow students, participants gain valuable knowledge at their convenience. You can complete any course entirely from your home of office, any time of the day or night.

To learn more, call New River Community and Technical College at (304) 872-4520 or visit them online at www.ed2go.com/newriver.

-end-