ANNA MARIE FUDA JOINS NEW RIVER FACULTY IN PRINCETON

[PRINCETON, W.VA.] Anna Marie Fuda has joined the faculty of New River Community and Technical College as an instructor of medical assisting on the Mercer County Campus in Princeton, W.Va. Her appointment was announced by Dr. Harry R. Faulk, executive vice president and chief academic officer.

Fuda is teaching courses in allied health as well as pharmacology and human anatomy and physiology. New River’s medical assisting program prepares students to work in a variety of healthcare settings. Functions generally incorporate a mix of clinical and administrative... responsibilities which may include carrying out procedures, performing basic laboratory tests, administering medications, documenting patient records and medical billing. The program combines classroom instruction with off-site externships to provide students with a comprehensive learning experience. Both certificate and associate degree options are available.

A Princeton resident, Fuda has more than 10 years of experience as a registered nurse and was on the Mercer County Technical Education Center faculty for five years as a practical nursing instructor. She recently received a master’s degree in adult and technical education from Marshall University. Fuda also holds an associate of science degree in nursing from Bluefield State College and a bachelor’s degree in English from Concord University.
