Intermediate Digital Photography Class Offered at New River

[Beckley, W. Va.] New River Community and Technical College will offer a course in Intermediate Digital Photography from 5-9 p.m. on Sept. 20 and 23 at the New River Advanced Technology Training Center in Ghent.

The first two hours of class will be devoted to learning how to use the camera, and the remainder will focus on developing skills to take better photographs.

This class is taught by popular Nicholas County photographer Mark Romano. Although it is an intermediate course, it will appeal both to those with a newfound love of photography and those who have been taking photographs for quite some time and desire to hone their abilities.

Call New River Community and Technical College at (304) 872-4520 to register. Class size is limited and pre-registration is required.
