TWO FROM NEW RIVER SELECTED FOR U.S. PROFESSORS OF THE YEAR SELECTION PANEL

[BECKLEY, WV] Dr. Ted D. Spring, president of New River Community and Technical College, and Dr. Lucie T. Refsland, professor of Mathematics on New River’s Greenbrier Valley Campus, have been invited by the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education to serve on the selection panel for the 2010 U.S. Professors of the Year awards.
The U.S. Professors of the Year awards program salutes the most outstanding undergraduate instructors in the country—those who excel as teachers and influence the lives and careers of their students. Spring nominated Refsland for the honor in 2008, and she was selected the West Virginia Professor of the Year.

The judging panel consists of national and state winners and previous nominators located at colleges and universities across the United States, along with past judges. This year’s winners will be honored in Washington, D.C., in November.
